

Introduction

Our firm, Newport Wealth Strategies, Inc., is an investment adviser registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. We feel that it is important for you to understand how advisory and brokerage services and fees differ in order to determine which type of account is right for you. There are free and simple tools available to research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about investment advisers, broker-dealers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We are a registered investment adviser that offers investment advisory services to retail investors for an ongoing asset-based fee. Our advisory services available to retail investors is limited to Asset Management. If you open an advisory account with our firm, we'll meet with you to understand your current financial situation, existing resources, goals, and risk tolerance. Based on what we learn, we'll recommend a portfolio of investments that is monitored at least quarterly, and if necessary, rebalanced to meet your changing needs, stated goals and objectives. We'll offer you advice on a regular basis and contact you at least annually to discuss your portfolio.

You can select in our agreement whether we are allowed to buy and sell investments in your account without asking you in advance ("discretion") or only buy and sell investments in your account after receiving your permission ("non-discretion"). If you select non-discretion, you make the ultimate decision regarding the purchase or sale of investments. Any limitations will be described in the signed advisory agreement. We will have discretion or non-discretion until the advisory agreement is terminated by you or our firm.

We do not restrict our advice to limited types of products or investments.

Our firm does not impose requirements for opening and maintaining accounts or otherwise engaging us.

Additional information about our advisory services is located in Item 4 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/159376>.

What fees will I pay?

You will be charged an ongoing quarterly fee based on the value of the investments in your account. Our maximum annual fee is 1.00%. Our fees vary and are negotiable. The amount you pay will depend, for example, on the services you receive and the amount of assets in your account. We therefore have an incentive to increase the assets in your advisory account in order to increase our fees. Our firm's fees will be automatically deducted from your advisory account, on a quarterly basis at the beginning of the quarter, which will reduce the value of your advisory account. In rare cases, our firm will agree to send you invoices rather than automatically deduct our firm's fees from your advisory account.

The broker-dealer that holds your assets charges you a transaction fee when we buy or sell certain investment products for you. It should be noted that TD Ameritrade and Charles Schwab & Co. both do not assess transaction fees on U.S. listed equities and exchange traded funds. The broker-dealer's transaction fees are in addition to our firm's fees for our Asset Management service. You may also pay charges imposed by the broker-dealer holding your accounts for certain investments and maintaining your account. Some investments, such as mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and variable annuities, charge additional fees that will reduce the value of your investments over time.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Additional information about our fees is located in Item 5 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/159376>.

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you.

For example, TD Ameritrade and Charles Schwab make certain research and brokerage services available at no additional cost to our firm. Without this arrangement, our firm might be compelled to purchase the same or similar services at our own expense. As a result of receiving these services, we have an incentive to continue to recommend our clients' use of both platforms.

Additionally, Spencer Reitz is a Certified Public Accountant with Reitz & Company. In such capacity, he may also provide income tax preparation or accounting services. These services are independent of our firm's financial planning and investment advisory services and are governed under a separate engagement agreement. Clients have the option of engaging our representative for tax preparation or accounting services, however, they are under no obligation to do so.

Additional information about our conflicts of interest is located in Items 10 & 12 of our Firm Brochure, which is available online at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/159376>.

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated based on the revenue our firm earns from their advisory services or recommendations, the amount of client assets they service, and the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, our firm and financial professionals do not have any legal and disciplinary history to disclose. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.
